A CHALLENGE

This year's class steps onto a world stage where, for the first time, man has the ability to feed the hungry millions yet commit suicide with a bomb. It is a stage abounding in blessing and evil; a stage seething with racial unrest, economic upheaval, and international conflict.

It is my hope that you will have the courage to accept the challenge of being actors rather than reactors on such a stage. Unfortunately, your task will be complicated by the demand to be an expert in any endeavor you undertake. Whether it be as a contractor, housewife, chemist, or mechanic, you must be qualified to take your place in a computer-jet age; an age where the ever increasing amount of knowledge and the speed at which life is lived will call from you the best that you have.

Not only must you commit yourself to the exacting demands of the present, but also to the high ideals and dreams that have made America what she is today and what she will be in the future. Many of you in the next few years may give your life for these commitments. Be assured that such acts will not be in vain. If Northampton has taught you anything, I hope it is the ability to unceasingly commit yourself to that which seems right and best in this one nation under God. Do not be turned aside by the worthless treasure of security. Instead, stand tall and step bravely onto a world stage that anxiously awaits your knowledge, understanding, and commitment.

Sincerely yours,

Russel C. Becker

School Board

Albert L. Henry
Superintendent of Schools

Northampton School District is indeed fortunate to have a man of Mr. Henry's caliber. Being dedicated to improve scholastic standards,he has guided Northampton to become a school of high reputation. Northampton can be proud of its building program which has been accomplished by Mr. Henry's patience, hard work, and steadfast vision of a better school.

David G. Olson
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

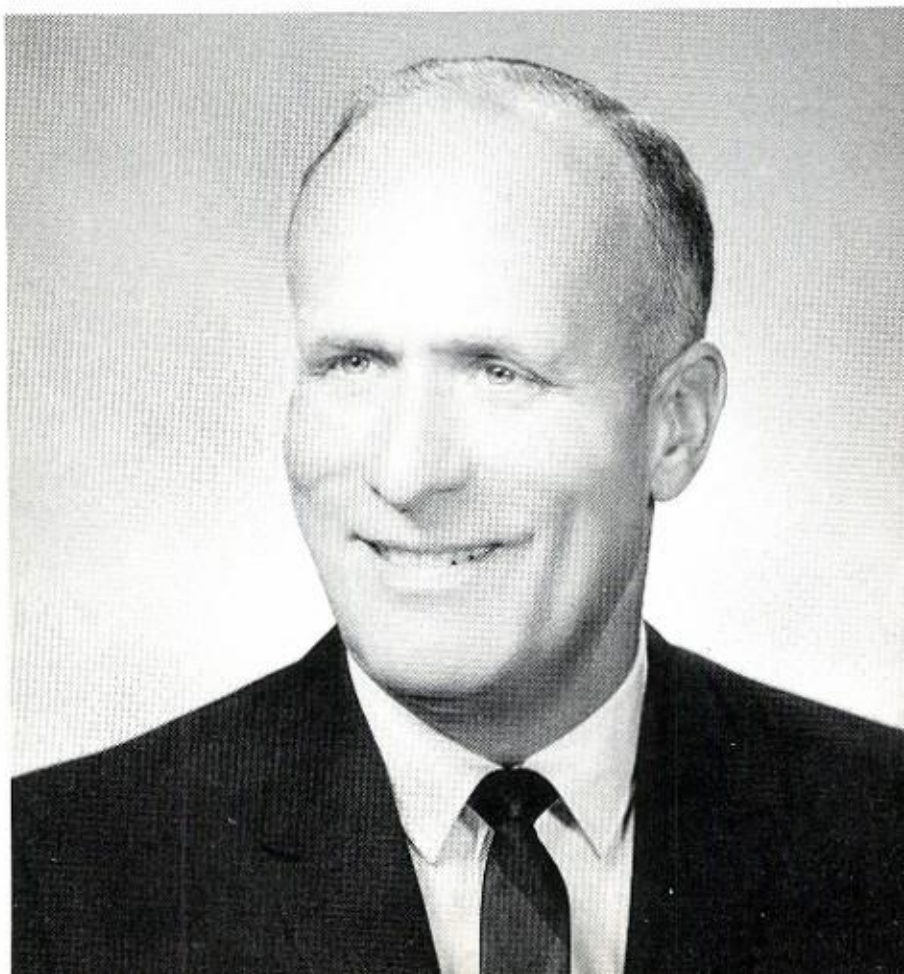
Mr. Olson's cheerful and exuberant nature makes him a "natural" for the difficult and arduous task of supervising kindergarten through twelfth grade. Time does not stand still and neither does Northampton with a leader like Mr. Olson. The student body will hopefully justify Mr. Olson's faith in the youth of today.

Norman A. Laub
Principal

Being the nucleus of our school system for more than twenty-three years, Mr. Laub has devoted his time and effort to the school program. Using sound judgment and disciplinary action when needed, he has guided the student body to be responsible citizens of tomorrow. We hope he will be here many more years so that future student bodies may benefit from his experience.

Alfred A. Laubach
Assistant to the Principal

Through the years, Mr. Laubach has become somewhat of a tradition in our school. We feel a security in his laughter, scolding, and counseling. He is interested in every facet of school life — from sports and the arts to scholarship. A part of Mr. Laubach graduates with each senior, and we are thankful that he has influenced our lives.



Albert M. Lerch
Director of Guidance

Mr. Lerch spends his time giving exams, interviewing students, and counseling people. He stays well-informed of the latest trends in schools and businesses in order to give helpful advice. If Mr. Lerch receives as much from his work as he puts into it, he must be a very rich man.

Flora Obrecht
Girls' Guidance Counselor

Mrs. Obrecht guides students in their future plans and immediate problems. She meets each problem with an understanding smile, and follows through until she finds a solution. Her door is always open to students needing help, and many pupils benefit from her kind attention.

Peter P. Schneider
Boys' Guidance Counselor

Mr. Schneider is the able leader of our student council, a member of our coaching staffs, and a valuable asset to the Guidance Department. He has tremendous experience in helping students, and can inspire them to do well in school. Many students have gained immeasurably from his coaching, teaching, and counseling.

A Message To The Seniors

Graduation Day has finally come and we are all filled with mixed emotions. We are happy and proud that we have completed our high school education successfully, but then, we are sad because we know that we will never be able to recapture the happy, carefree days that we shared together. And now, with anticipation, we look to the future.

Each of us has had the opportunity to prepare ourselves for honest, useful lives. Some will go to college, some will seek jobs, and some will enter the armed forces. It does not matter so much what choice of careers we have made, but rather, the manner in which we pursue them. It will not always be easy, but I sincerely hope that we will always try our best.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to each of you, my fellow classmates, for your cooperation and splendid school spirit. May the future hold much success and happiness for you.

IN MEMORIAM

Loretta Fava

(September 10, 1950 — December 20, 1962)

Despite her shyness and reserve, Loretta was only too willing to help her fellow classmates. Whether it be as a guidance counselor, social worker, or sympathetic listener, she was always ready to lend individualistic attention to each of their demanding problems. The void left by Loretta seems to be almost unfathomable in a world where the love of one's fellow man is rapidly disappearing.

Paul Getz

(June 19, 1948 — July 31, 1964)

Brawny yet gentle, Paul was admired by his teachers and classmates as an individual possessing unceasing ambition and indefatigable humor. Regardless of where he was or whom he was with, Paul was able to make the most boring tasks seem so pleasurable that excellent results were always obtained. Such a remarkable person will long be remembered by each and every one of his classmates

Donald Kohler

(May 3, 1949 — April 8, 1967)

A friendly and enthusiastic person, Donald was usually the center of attention wherever and whenever students congregated. It was he who added humor to a dreary life, organized any projects that were needed, and guided these endeavors to their proper completion. There is no doubt that his contagious exuberance has had an effect on his classmates that will be hard to erase in the years to come.

A Message To The Juniors

The time has come for you, the Class of 1969, to assume the role of Seniors. The records of the past two years reveal that you are capable of being good leaders. It will be your responsibility to set a good example for the underclassmen. Be helpful when they come to you for advice. Encouragement from you, as Seniors, will mean a great deal to them.

Your future will depend greatly on the accomplishments of your Senior year. Therefore, use your time wisely, and take advantage of the opportunities you will have as Seniors to prepare for it.

In parting, our wish is that you will find as much joy and happiness being Seniors as we did. May you be successful in all your future endeavors.

A Message To The Sophomores

It was just a year ago that you entered Northampton High School, full of ambition and eager to become successful students. During the past year, you have laid a good foundation for the next two years.

The class of 1968 would like to encourage you to become a real part of your class by participation. There are many different activities to which your efforts could be contributed. Do not be discouraged if things do not go your way. Remember, the more effort you put into something, the more rewarding the results will be.

The Senior Class would like to extend best wishes to you for continued success. May all your dreams become a reality through perseverance.

Theodore Colarusso

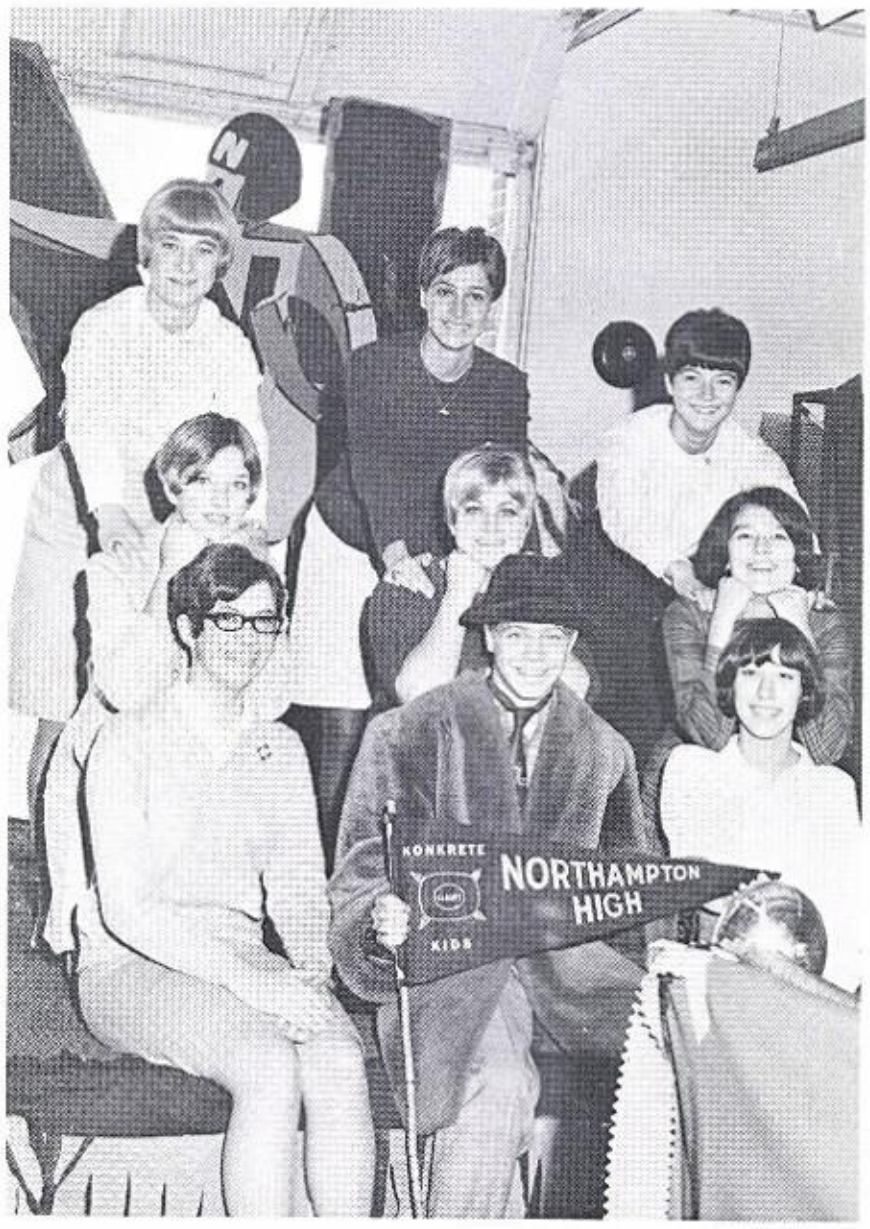
Fresh milk for the cafeteria.

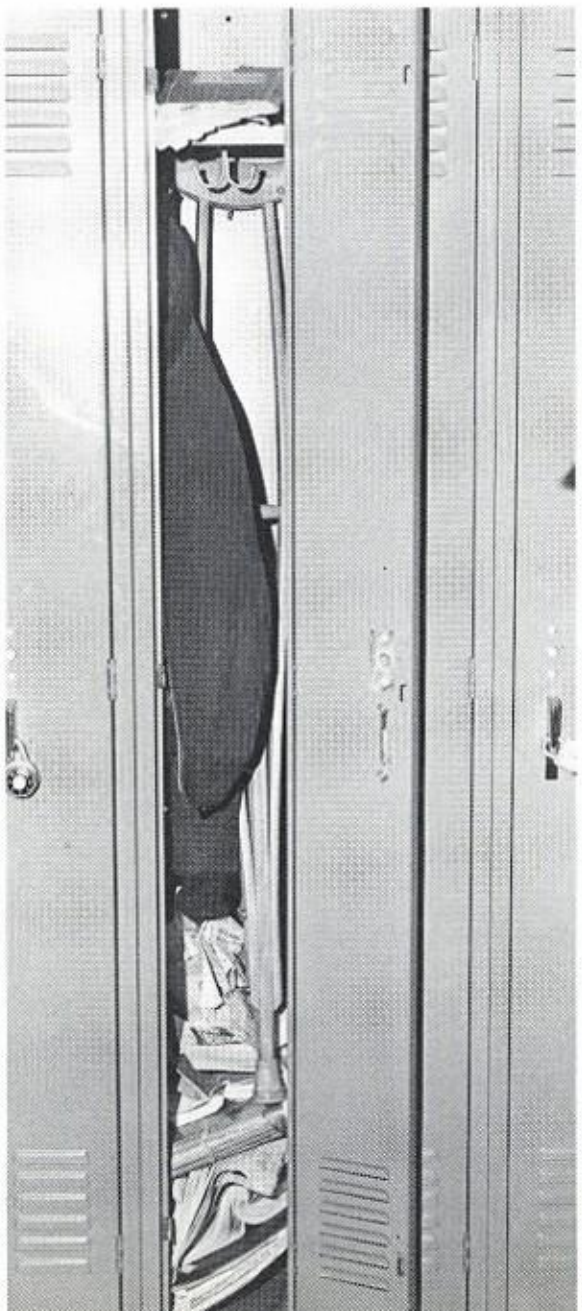
Oh, you kid!



That's no way to shuffle cards!

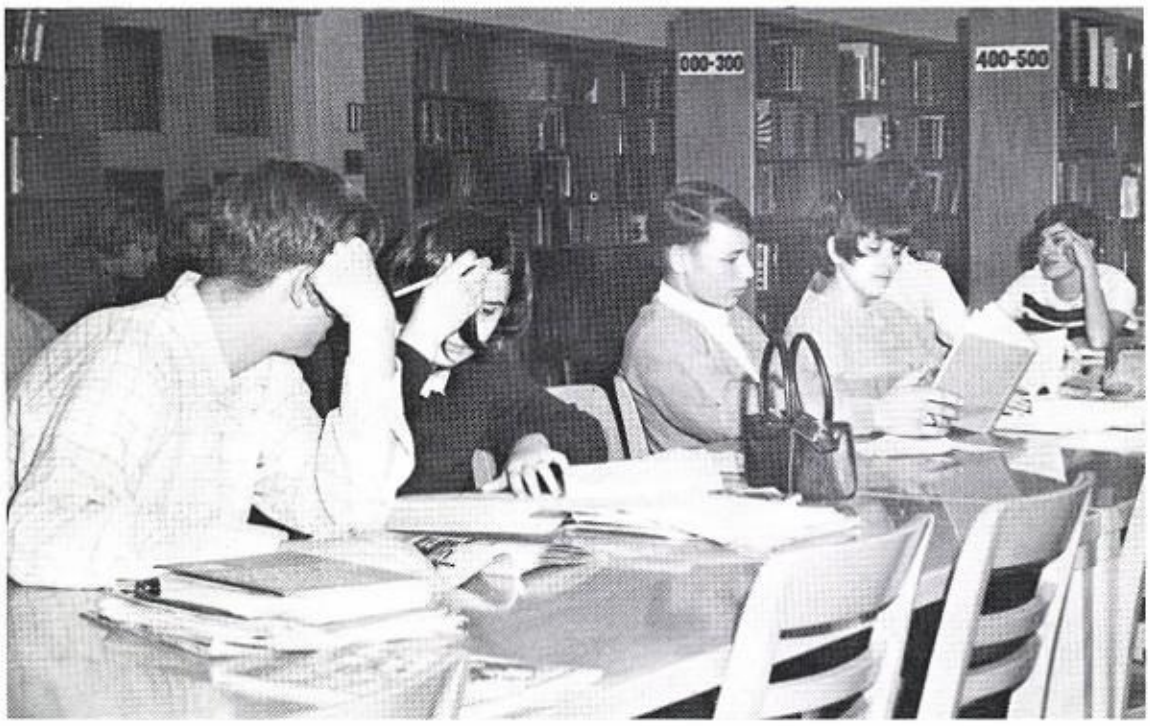
The girl watchers.

The great escape.

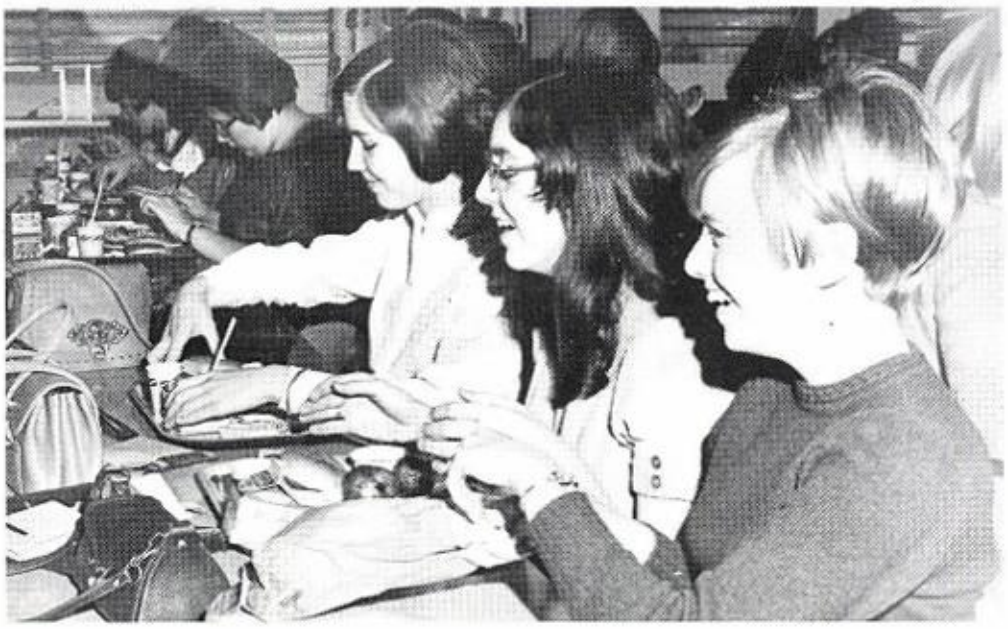


POD notebooks are due tomorrow.

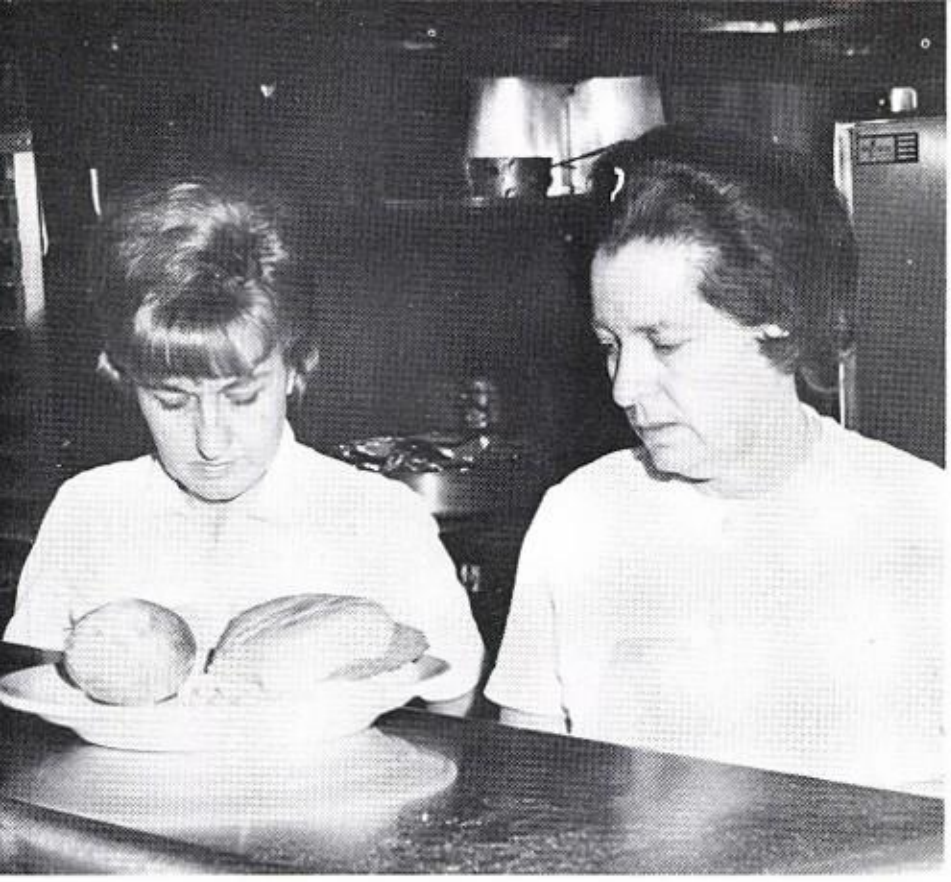
Two dollars on Lady Day to place in the ninth.



Whose study period are you running from?



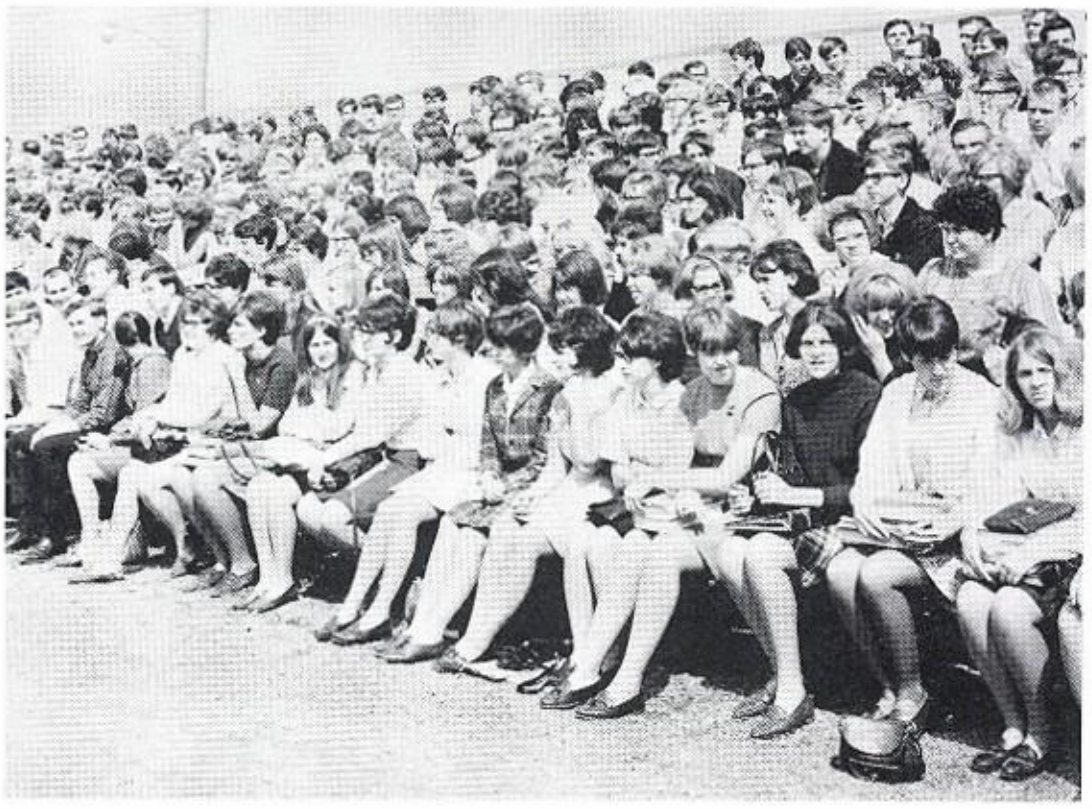
How did you break that roll?



Oh my gosh, it moved!

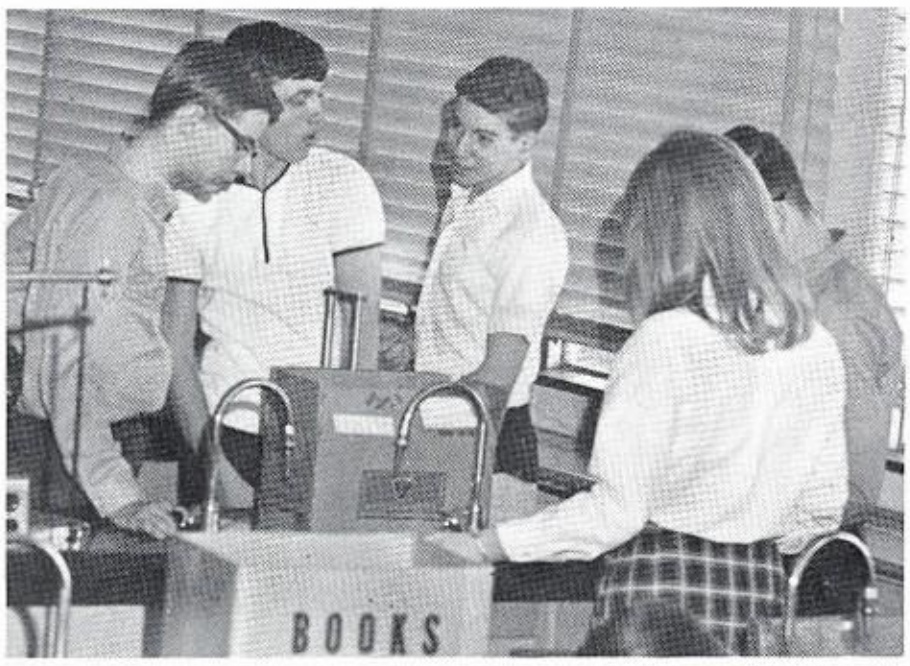
Mr. Reiff is in here somewhere.

Pornography is making a comeback.



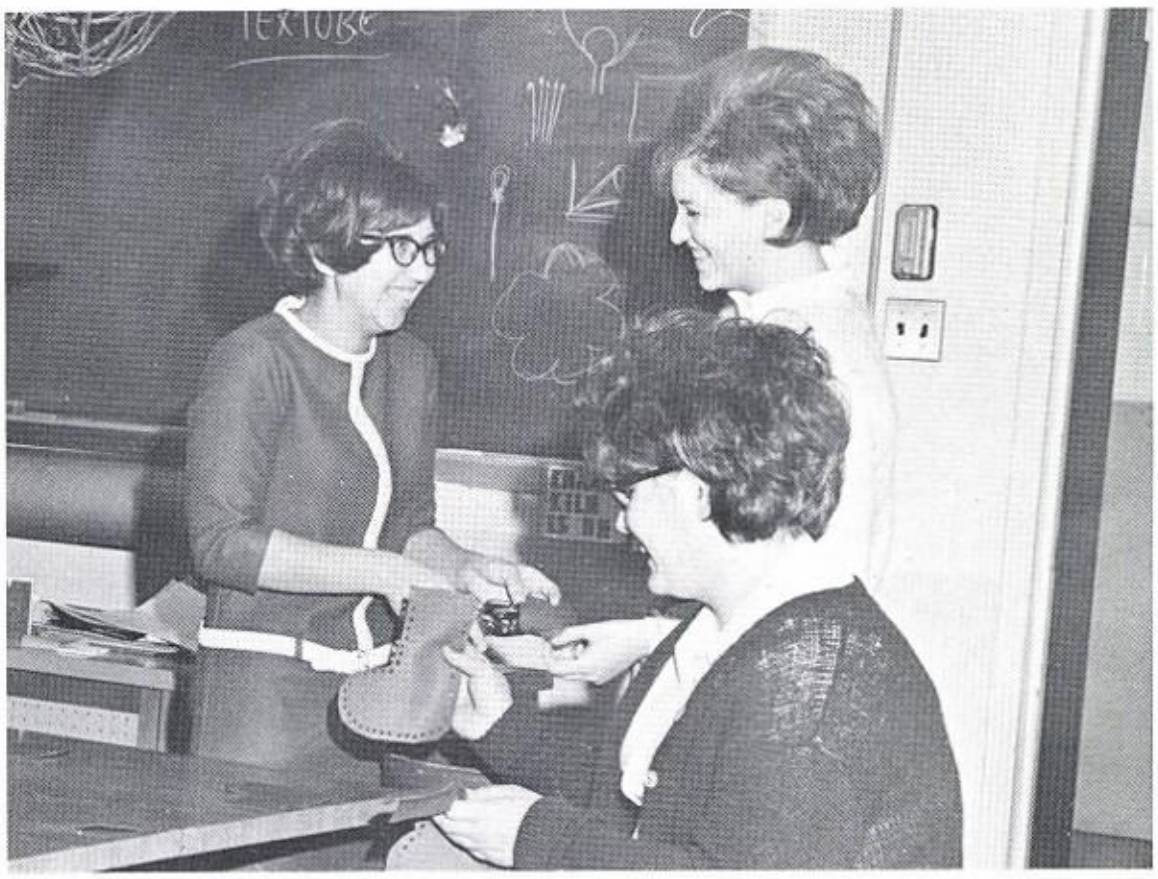
Before.

After.



I'll raise you three.

Solid gold?

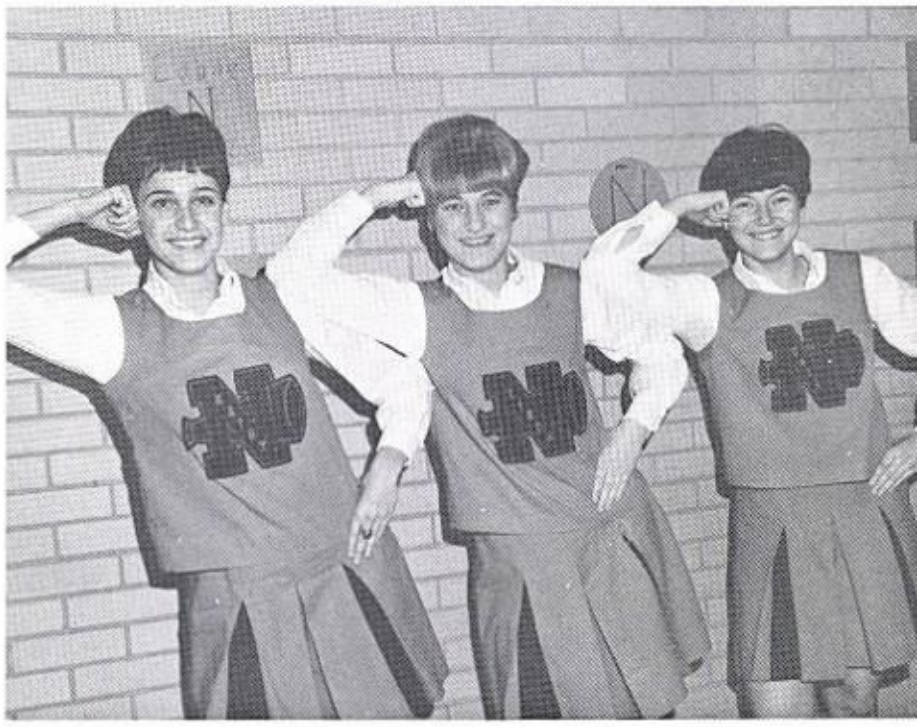


Do you think these will fit Joe Steffie?

How did you get the extra sleeve?

I think it's starting to rain.

I wish I could take her back with me.



Who's been drinking?

Keep playing Vaughn, they're still dancing.

Camelback's practice slope.

Our faculty.

Hold on Harry, I'm coming.

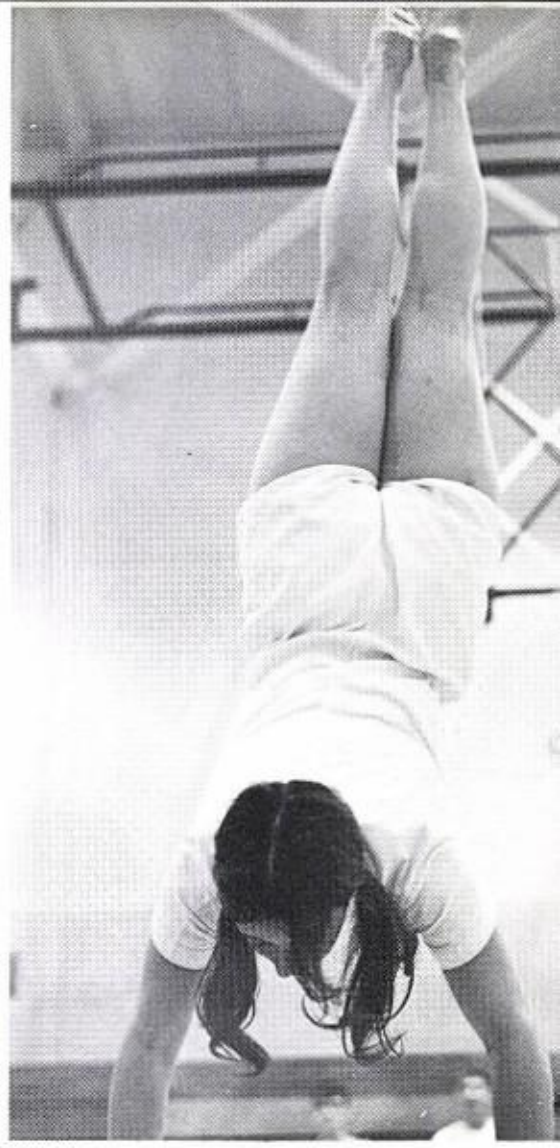
How do you get a needle out of your finger?

It sure beats going to class.

What was in that water anyway?

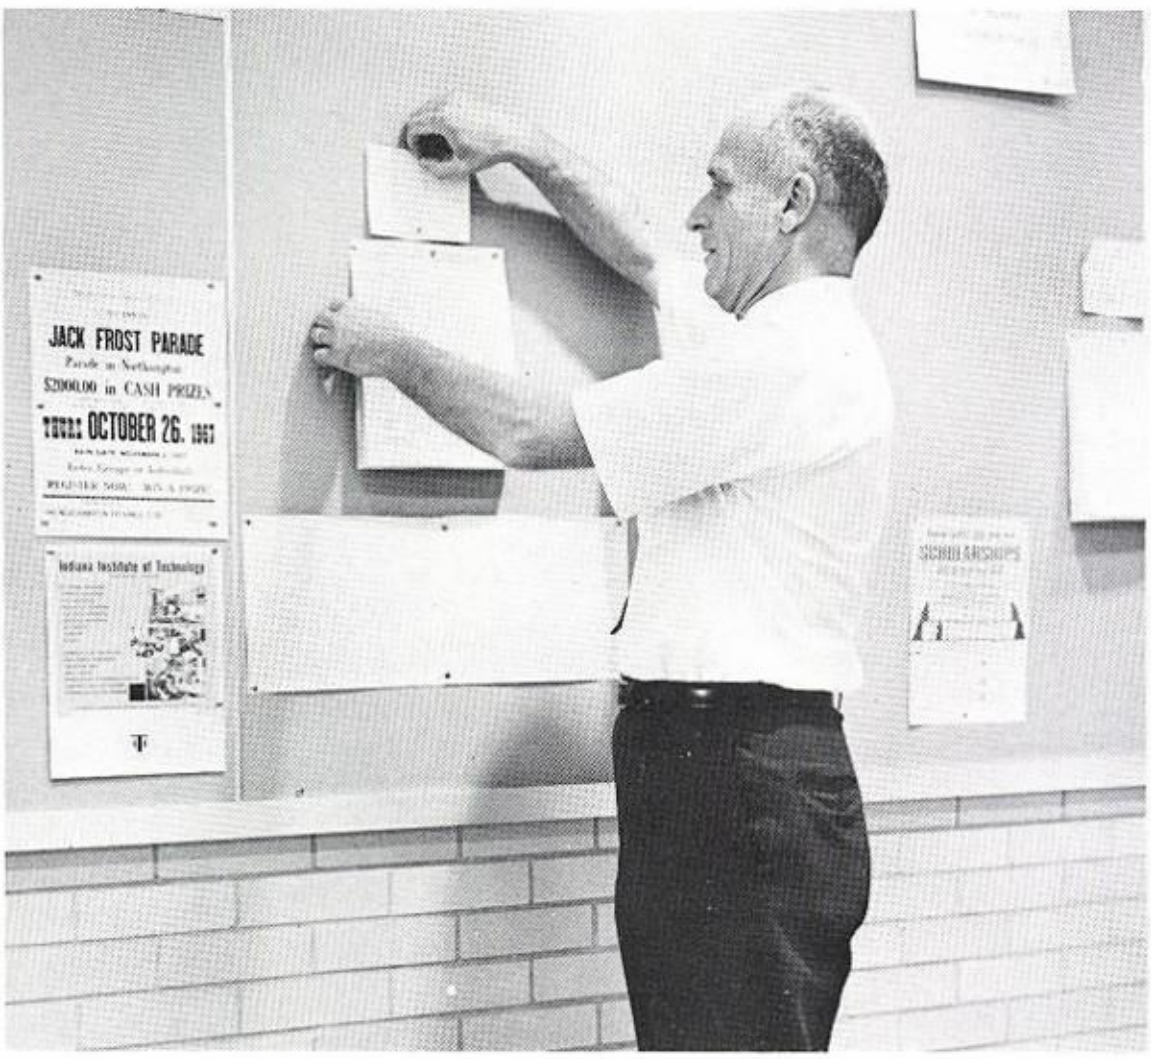
Where they belong.

Regardless of my popularity polls, I . . . .

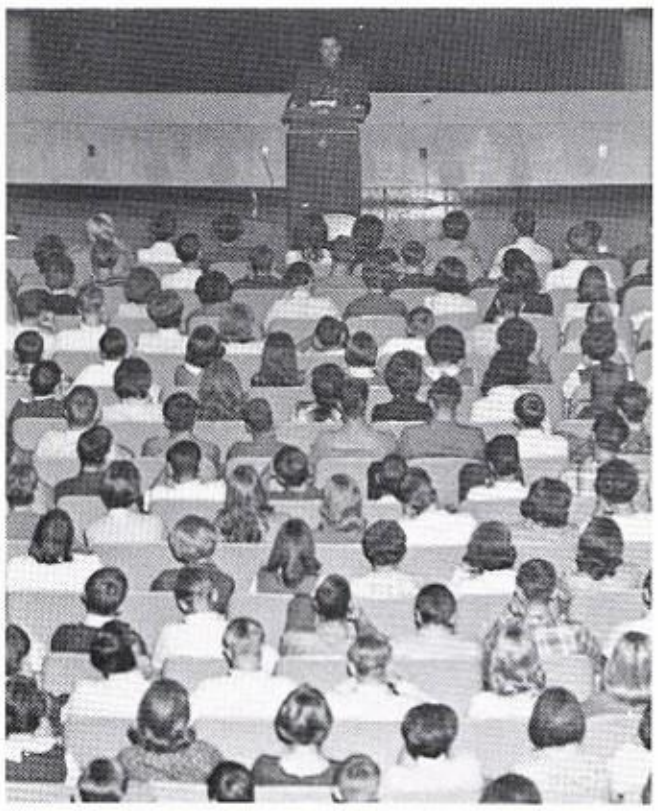


It's really quite easy.

The ten most wanted list.



A mouse in your what?



And now for our next cheer . . . .

Gentlemen, start your engines.

I left the water running at home.
